

At Home With Lisa and Becky...

Celebrations ... they can happen virtually anytime and anywhere, and they seem to be more frequent during the fall and holiday seasons than at any other time of the year!

We celebrate our children returning to school and the crisp, fresh days of cooler weather. There's Halloween, Thanksgiving and of course, the beauty of the weeks leading up to Christmas. We celebrate the simplicity of an afternoon of apple picking and a hayride followed by making homemade pies. It may be a family picnic in the woods or a leisurely stroll in Grandma's backyard. For you, a celebration may just be gathering with family and friends in your home on a sunny afternoon!

The truth is that every day can be a celebration! And, at AtHome America, we strive to make each one truly special by providing decorative accents and finishing touches for your home that will make those times even more memorable. Simply said, we appreciate that you include AHA in your celebrations ... no matter how big or small!

From AtHome to your home, we hope that you embrace the fall and holiday seasons in a way you may never have before. Treasure every day — make each one an experience, a journey — a celebration!!!
